Something Dada to Perform at The Historic Centrum

Well we're movin' on up (movin' on up!) to the East Side (movin' on up!)... to Cleveland Heights, to be precise!

Something Dada Improvisational Comedy Company is pleased to announce we are adding additional shows to our regularly scheduled performances. Something Dada will be performing the last two Thursdays in May and the last two Thursdays in June, at The Historic Centrum Theater.

Something Dada is incredibly excited to bring our signature brand of fast-paced, in your face, completely audience driven improvisational comedy to the East Side of Cleveland. We're equally thrilled to bring the hilarity to The Historic Centrum, which has been an important part of Cleveland culture for even longer than we have (but 14 years is nothing to sneeze at, so Gesundheit!)

Something Dada will be performing at 8:30 on Thursdays May 22 and May 29, and Thursdays June 19 and 26. All shows run for an hour and a half, and are open to all ages. Tickets are $10 general admission and $8 for students and seniors. Everyone is invited to come join in the fun, and be a part of this exciting time for The Historic Centrum.

These shows are in addition to our standard performance schedule: we will still be performing all summer long at The Wooltex Gallery in The Tower Press Building at 1900 Superior Avenue in Cleveland. These performances are every Friday at 8:00 and Saturdays at 8:00 and 10:30. Reservations are available on-line or by phone, and on-line ticket ordering is available at our website for all performances at The Tower Press Building.
